THE CHALLENGE

Headquartered in the heart of Manhattan, with offices nationwide and international, Prager Metis were looking to provide their principals, partners, and team members with a single version of the truth using an environment that was built on the Microsoft (Office) 365 Platform as a Service (PaaS), which everyone in the organization was already familiar with. The Intranet wasn't just an organization wide communications site, but a one-stop-shop where everyone in the business could access the latest company information, and documentation; safe in the knowledge that what they were looking at; or downloading – was the most up to date version.

Prager Metis also wanted a solution built on the hub-and-soke design – where departments could also have their own sub-sites (sub-intranets) ensuring department specific information and documentation could also be easily located and information disseminated where requires to the Prager Metis corporation Intranet (Employee Hub).

Gurjit Singh, Chief Information Officer at Prager Metis

We were looking to provide our Principals, Partners, and Team Members with a simple to use, centralized employee hub, where corporate communication could be disseminated, along with a central repository where information and documents could be stored, providing everyone in Prager Metis with a single version of the truth.

Data Security in our business is paramount, so having all our corporate and department information stored within the Microsoft cloud was a key factor in the final solution we chose.

The team at SP Marketplace were also able to support us across our global operation and understood how we could get the most from an Intranet (Employee Hub). We've been invested in SP Employee Hub since 2018 and have grown the Intranet to thirteen departments which delivers what we need within SharePoint, enabling us to get even more value from our Microsoft (Office) subscription.
